THE CHOLERA.

Abatement of the Disease in Constantinople and Smyrna--Supposed Origin of the Epi-

The cholera, on the 23d ult., was reported as considerably abating in Constantinople, the deaths on the day previous having been only 110, against at least five times that number during the hight of the epidemic. At Smyrna also, it will have no such effect. But if they will it was thought to be subsiding, though the returns are so inaccurate as to be very unreliable. In the Turkish provinces, and toward Persia, the condition of affairs was less satisfactory. In much more vigorous and productive the Italy and Spain, in consequence of the ensuing summer. They vine is not dead in strongest quarantine and sanitary regulations adopted, the disease was most ly confined to the few localities in which it first appeared and wrought so much destruction.

Dr. Colucci, President of the sanitary department in Egypt, has made an official report on the epidemic. He traces its origin to the Mecca pilgrim age. On the Kurban-Bairam, the day of sacrifice which terminates the religious observances of the Hadj, there are often from seven hundred to eight hundred thousand pilgrims assembled at Mount Ararat. The march of these crowds through the long deserts of sand, the unwholesome food, the habit of burying the dead-close to the surface, to be uncovered by a few days of wind, infesting the air, have all weakened the constitutions of the pilgrims, and made them a ready prey to disease. Add to this the exhalations from the offal, blood and bones remaining from the slaughter of some two millions of sheep sacrificed, and which in the burnepidemics. This year the Kurban-Bairam was in the month of May, and hundred thousand persons died in a fortnight. During the entire pilgrimage, from the entry into the sacred in shreds among their friends on their return. Those of the dead are equally their friends.

Scott, Justifying King, to prove that a bill, introduced by Mr. King in the Senate, to authorize Union men in the South to organize under the authority of the United States, was drafted by Mr. Blair him-

This bill did not meet Holt's approval, because arms which would have sympathy for the brute Wirz, and call his would have been seized by rebels and turned against the Government. Holt gives the result of his official acts during that period, and the names of Southern Screen and the names of the soldiers whom Southern Senators who voted against this miscreant tortured, starved and mutilahis confirmation, and says it is a con- ted with devilish malignity. "Oh, shame solation to him that of all the conspirators and wicked men who set this rebellion on foot, or who subsequently followed and maintained its bloody cause. not one ever mistook him for his friend, or the friend of his cause.

Do we Desire Peace, or War f Do we want again to hear the drum beating for men to defend the Government? Do we want to add to the load of taxes we are bearing? Do we want more widows and orphans-more coats with empty sleeves-more maimed and disabled men? So sure as God lives, let the Copperheads triumph at the polls two years in succession, and the third will see the nation involved in another war. There is no escape from it save by surrendering the Govern, ment, and living the willing slaves of an aristocracy. Never was an election held on the result of which so much depended. Let the people take heed what they do next October .- [Hancock Jeffersonian.

CAPT. BAKER, a British army officer, thinks he has discovered the true key to the prophecies, and he makes out that the end of the world is to come in 1868. He is very precise, and tells us that the day of judgment is fixed for September 20th of that year, at sunset, the translation of the saints having previously taken place, at 1 o'-clock in the morning, on the 25th of January, 1815. The resurrection of the just is fixed for December 6, 1874. He says Napoleon Third is the anti-Christ mentioned in the Scriptures.

New York Democracy vs. Ohio

Democracy. The State Journal thus shows how the Democracy is the same in these States:

"The New York Democracy recognizes the extinctinction of slavery "down South." The Ohio Democracy don't. The Ohio Democracy don't. The Ohio Democracy has great agony over "colored passons." The New York Democracy does nt see it. The New York Democracy commits suffrage to the State. Ohio Democracy is "preceding of the State." "unequivocally" opposed to negro suffrage. Ohio Democracy is full of complaints. New York Democracy isn't. The New York Democracy rejoices over the termination of the war. Ohio Democracy don't. Ohio Democracy goes it strong on "reserved rights." New York Democracy don't."

Pruning Grapes in the Fall.

Most grape growers delay pruning their vines till spring. This we think a bad practice. If they wish to make cuttings of the surplus canes, they are not near as good as if taken off in the fall and carefully buried or put away till spring. The wood is frequently so much injured by the winter, as not to crow in the spring.

not to grow in the spring.

But the wood left for producing fruit is better for being pruned in the fall. It is much more easily protected, as it can readily be laid down and covered slightly with earth, and if we have a severe winter it is safe.—
Indeed we think it would pay to protect viacs in this way even in our mildest win-

It is not for the protection of the vine alone, however, that we recommend fall prune two vines in the same manner—one in the fall as soon as the leaves are destroyed by frost, and the other the following spring they will find that fall pruned vines will be Its roots continue to absorb food, though of course in much less quantity than in summer. The nutriment thus absorbed distributed throughout the vine. All the buds are more or less benefitted, but as the buds remotest from the roots always receive the principal flow of sap, they are most benefitted. Now by pruning in the fall, all this is saved in the buds and cane we have this is saved in the buds and cane we have the principle in the field, By summer pruning we check wood wood.

SYMPTOMS.

The symptoms of Caterrh as they generally appear are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition, the mose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterward becoming thick and adhesive. As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thek and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice is thick and harsh; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or almy mucons, which has fallen down from the head during the night. When this takes place, the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the hugs, and should lose no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal Symptoms.

A Single Bottle will last a month-to be used three times a day.
